

New Minister for Canberra Central

After a year-long vacancy, there is to be a new member of our ministerial team! The Rev'd Sarah Agnew has accepted a Call to be a Minister in the Parish from January 1st, 2018.

Ordained in 2010, Sarah has recently returned home to Adelaide following doctoral studies at the University of Edinburgh.

Sarah, 39, was ordained in December 2010. She holds a B.Min. from the Adelaide College of Divinity, and a B.Th (hons I) from Flinders University. Her first placement was at Belair Uniting Church.

She has particular skills as a storyteller and poet, and as a teacher and facilitator of workshops, and her PhD explored the way performance – oral storytelling – leads to interpretation of biblical texts.

Whilst in theological college in Adelaide, she was involved in many fresh expressions/alternative worship projects.

We look forward to Sarah joining us in January.
